TORAH PORTION

Vayigash

PAGE: 169

With the discovery of the goblet in Binyamin's sack, the brothers are confused. Yehuda alone steps forward and eloquently but firmly petitions Yosef for Binyamin's release, offering himself instead. As a result of this act of total selflessness, Yosef finally has irrefutable proof that his brothers are different people from the ones who cast him into the pit, and so he now reveals to them that he is none other than their brother. The brothers shrink from him in shame, but Yosef consoles them, telling them that everything has been part of G-d's plan. He sends them back to their father Yaakov with a message to come and reside in the land of Goshen. At first, Yaakov cannot accept the news, but when he recognizes hidden signs in the message which positively identify the sender as his son Yosef, his spirit is revived. Yaakov together with all his family and possessions sets out for Goshen. G-d communicates with Yaakov in a vision at night. He tells him not to fear going down to Egypt and its negative spiritual consequences, because it is there that G-d will establish the Children of Israel as a great nation even though they will be dwelling in a land steeped in immorality and corruption. The Torah lists Yaakov's offspring and hints to the birth of Yocheved, who will be the mother of Moshe Rabbeinu. Seventy souls in total descend into Egypt, where Yosef is reunited with his father after 22 years of separation. He embraces his father and weeps, overflowing with joy. Yosef secures the settlement of his family in Goshen. Yosef takes his father Yaakov and five of the least threatening of his brothers to be presented to Pharaoh, and Yaakov blesses Pharaoh. Yosef instructs that, in return for grain, all the people of Egypt must give everything to Pharaoh, including themselves as his slaves. Yosef then redistributes the population, except for the Egyptian priests who are directly supported by a stipend from Pharaoh. The Children of Israel become settled, and their numbers multiply greatly.

An elderly Jewish lady went into her bank and walked over to the teller and said she wanted to withdraw 100 dollars. The unfriendly teller said she should use the ATM by the door unless she was withdrawing a large amount of money. The elderly Jewish lady said she did not like using the ATM and she is short and can't reach everything. She then said, "Can't you help me?" The unfriendly teller checked her balance and said, "You have 100 thousand dollars in your account". The elderly Jewish lady said I want to withdraw all of my money. The unfriendly teller went to the vault and counted out 100 thousand dollars and then counted it out again for the elderly Jewish lady and said, "Will that be all today?" The elderly Jewish lady then said, "No, I would like to deposit 99 thousand 900 dollars back into my account."
