Korach, Datan and Aviram, and 250 leaders of Israel rebel against the authority of Moshe and Aharon. The rebellion results in their being swallowed by the earth. Many resent their death and blame Moshe. G-d's "anger" is manifest by a plague that besets the nation, and many thousands perish. Moshe intercedes once again for the people. He instructs Aharon to atone for them and the plague stops.

Then, G-d commands that staffs, each inscribed with the name of one of the tribes, be placed in the Mishkan. In the morning the staff of Levi, bearing Aharon's name, sprouts, buds, blossoms and yields ripe almonds. This provides Divine confirmation that Levi's tribe is chosen for priesthood and verifies Aharon's position as Kohen Gadol, High Priest. The specific duties of the levi'im and kohanim are stated. The kohanim were not to be landowners, but were to receive their sustenance from the tithes and other mandated gifts brought by the people. Also taught in this week's parsha are laws of the first fruits, redemption of the firstborn and other offerings.

It's obvious

During an Israeli pop concert in Israel, Daniel, the lead singer, asks the audience for some quiet. Then, when silence descends, he starts slowly clapping his hands in a gentle rhythm. The audience are mesmerized. He then puts his lips close up to the microphone and says, "What I'm about to say is important to all of us who care about our fellow humans. With every clap of my hands, a child somewhere in Africa dies."

Then a voice is heard from the back of the audience. "So nu mister Daniel? Vy don't you stop clapping?"

A recent study has found Jewish women who carry a little extra weight, live longer than Jewish husbands who mention it.
