32nd Day of the Omer

TORAH PORTION:	Behar	PAGE 531

On the mount – (Sinai)

The Torah prohibits normal farming of the Land of Israel every seven years. This "Shabbat" for the Land is called "shemita". After every seventh shemita, the fiftieth year, yovel (jubilee), is announced with the sound of the shofar on Yom Kippur. This was also a year for the Land to lie fallow. G-d promises to provide a bumper crop prior to the shemita and the jubilee year. During yovel (the jubilee), all land is returned to its original division from the time of Joshua, and all Jewish indentured servants are freed, even if they have not completed their six years of work. A Jewish indentured servant may not be given any demeaning, unnecessary or excessively difficult work, and may not be sold in the public market. The price of his labor must be calculated according to the amount of time remaining until he will automatically become free. The price of land is similarly calculated. Should anyone sell his ancestral land, he has the right to redeem it after two years. If a house in a walled city is sold, the right of redemption is limited to the first year after the sale. The Levites' cities belong to them forever. The Jewish People are forbidden to take advantage of one another by lending or borrowing with interest. Family members should redeem any relative who was sold as an indentured servant as a result of impoverishment.

Joke...

Joseph is thrilled to be taking his 95 year old mother to see the hit show, "Fiddler on the Roof." He's excited not only because his Momala hasn't seen it before, but also because she came to America in the late 1930s from one of the many Anatevka-like Russian shtetls. Not only does Joseph book the most expensive seats in the theatre, but he also buys his Momala some smart new clothes to wear. And on the night of the show, he even orders a stretch limo to take them there and back. He wants it to be a memorable evening and doesn't want to leave anything to chance.

On the night of the show, they arrive in style, take their seats and watch the performance.

As soon as the final curtain comes down, Joseph asks her, "Well Mom, what did you think of the show? Be honest. Did it bring back any memories for you?" Momala sits there for a while, then turns to Joseph and gives both a nod and a classic JMS (Jewish Mother Shrug). "Yes bubbeleh, it did," she replies, "but I really don't remember that much singing."

Go figure...

How did the man who made the first clock, know what time it was?
