TORAH PORTION: Beha'alotecha PAGE 605

Aharon is taught the method for kindling the Menorah. Moshe sanctifies the levi'im to work in the Mishkan. They replace the first-born, who were disqualified after sinning at the golden calf. The levi'im are commanded that after five years of training they are to serve in the Mishkan from ages 30 to 50; afterwards they are to engage in less strenuous work. One year after the Exodus from Egypt, G-d commands Moshe concerning the korban Pesach. Those ineligible for this offering request a remedy, and the mitzvah of Pesach Sheini, allowing a "second chance" to offer the korban (sacrificial offerings) Pesach one month later, is detailed. Miraculous clouds that hover near the Mishkan signal when to travel and when to camp. Two silver trumpets summon the princes or the entire nation for announcements. The trumpets also signal travel plans, war or festivals. The order in which the tribes march is specified. Moshe invites his father-in-law, Yitro, to join the Jewish People, but Yitro returns to Midian. At the instigation of the eruv rav - the mixed Egyptian multitude who joined the Jewish People in the Exodus - some people complain about the manna. Moshe protests that he is unable to govern the nation alone. G-d tells him to select 70 elders, the first Sanhedrin, to assist him, and informs him that the people will be given meat until they will be sickened by it. Two candidates for the group of elders prophesy beyond their mandate, foretelling that Yehoshua instead of Moshe will bring the people to Canaan. Some protest, including Yehoshua, but Moshe is pleased that others have become prophets. G-d sends an incessant supply of quail for those who complained that they lacked meat. A plague punishes those who complained. Miriam tries to make a constructive remark to Aharon which also implies that Moshe is only like other prophets. G-d explains that Moshe's prophecy is superior to that of any other prophet, and punishes Miriam with tzara'at as if she had gossiped about her brother. (Because Miriam is so righteous, she is held to an incredibly high standard.) Moshe prays for her, and the nation waits until she is cured before traveling.

Joke...

An old Jewish man goes to see one of New York's top medical specialists.
 "How much do I owe you, doctor?" he asks. "My fee is $5000."
 "$5000!" the man exclaims. "That's impossible." "Fine, in your case," the doctor replies, "I suppose I could make it 3000." "3000? Ridiculous." "Well can you afford 1000?" "A thousand dollars? Who has that kind of money?"
 Frustrated, the doctor says, "Just give me $800 and we'll be done with it."
 "I can give you 200," says the man. "Take it or leave it."
 "I don't understand you," says the doctor. "Why did you come to one of the most expensive doctors in New York City if you didn't have any money?"
 "Listen doctor," says the patient. "When it comes to my health, nothing is too expensive."

Go figure...

Why does fridge have a "D" in it, but refrigerator does not?
