Parshas Pinchas

PARSHA – Pg. 686

HAFTORAH – Pg. 710

TORAH PORTION:

Pinchas

PAGE 686

G-d tells Moshe to inform Pinchas that Pinchas will receive G-d's "covenant of peace" as reward for his bold action - executing Zimri and the Midianite princess Kozbi. G-d commands Moshe to maintain a state of enmity with the Midianites who lured the Jewish People into sin. Moshe and Elazar are told to count the Jewish People. The Torah lists the names of the families in each tribe. The total number of males eligible to serve in the army is 601,730. G-d instructs Moshe how to allot the Land of Israel to Bnei Yisrael. The number of the Levites' families is recorded. Tzlofchad's daughters file a claim with Moshe. In the absence of a brother, they request their late father's portion in the Land. Moshe asks G-d for the ruling, and G-d tells Moshe that their claim is just. The Torah teaches the laws and priorities which determine the order of inheritance. G-d tells Moshe that he will ascend a mountain and view the Land that the Jewish People will soon enter, although Moshe himself will not enter. Moshe asks G-d to designate the subsequent leader, and G-d selects Yehoshua bin Nun. Moshe ordains Yehoshua as his successor in the presence of the entire nation. The Parsha concludes with special teachings of the service in the Beit Hamikdash.

Three Haftorahs of Punishment:

The three weeks from the 17th of Tamuz until the 9th of Av mark a period of mourning for the Jewish nation, as we relive and lament the destruction of Jerusalem by the Romans in 69 CE. It begins with a fast on the 17th of Tamuz, when the walls of Jerusalem were breached by the Romans, and reaches its climax with another fast on 9th of Av, when the Temple was set aflame (many other tragedies befell us on that day as well).

The haftorahs of these three weeks, drawn from the books of Jeremiah and Isaiah, tell of G-d's disappointment with Israel's faithlessness, and the impending doom that would befall them if they would not mend their ways.

Joke...

Malka Feiglebaum went to Abe's butcher shop every Thursday to pick up her brisket, but was shocked one Thursday to find a foul-mouthed parrot by the door who squawked: "Hey, lady, you're brisket tastes haluches." The woman tried to ignore the insult and hurried on her way.

The following Thursday when she exited the butcher shop, she quickened her stride in the hope that the parrot wouldn't spot her, but he did and squawked loudly: "Hey, lady, you're brisket tastes haluches."

Mrs. Feiglebaum was extremely embarrassed.

When the same thing happened for a third and fourth Thursday, she had reached the end of her tether. She stormed into the butcher shop and demanded to speak to the owner. She threatened to sue him and to have the parrot put down unless the abuse stopped.

The butcher promised faithfully that the bird wouldn't say it again.

The next Thursday, Mrs. Feiglebaum came to the butcher shop as usual, picked up her order and as she approached the exit, the parrot called out: "Hey, lady." Mrs. Feiglebaum turned round and glared at the bird. "Yes?"

"You wanna borrow a brisket recipe?"

Go figure...

Common sense is like deodorant. The people who need it the most don't use it.
