TORAH PORTION: Re'eh PAGE 799
(See)

Moshe presents to the nation the blessing of a spiritually oriented life, and the curse of becoming disconnected from Hashem. When the nation enters Eretz Yisrael they must burn down any trees that had been used for idol-worship, and destroy all idolatrous statues. Hashem will choose only one place where the Divine Presence will dwell. Offerings may be brought only there; not to a private altar. Moshe repeatedly warns against eating animal blood. In the desert, all meat was slaughtered in the Mishkan, but in Eretz Yisrael meat may be shechted anywhere. Moshe lists the categories of food that may be eaten only in Jerusalem. He warns the nation against copying ways of the other nations. Since the Torah is complete and perfect, nothing may be added to or subtracted from it. If a "prophet" tells the people to permanently abandon a Torah law or indulge in idol worship, he is to be put to death. One who entices others to worship idols is to be put to death. A city of idolatry must be razed. It is prohibited to show excessive signs of mourning, such as marking the skin or making a bald spot. Moshe reiterates the classifications of kosher and non-kosher food and the prohibition of cooking meat and milk. Produce of the second tithe must be eaten in Jerusalem, and if the amount is too large to carry, it may be exchanged for money with which food is bought in Jerusalem. In certain years this tithe is given to the poor. Bnei Yisrael are instructed to always be open-hearted, and in the seventh year any loans must be discounted Hashem will bless the person in all ways. A Jewish bondsman is released after six years, and must be sent away with generous provisions. If he refuses to leave, his ear is pierced with an awl at the door post and he remains a bondsman until the Jubilee Year. The Parsha ends with a description of the three pilgrimage festivals of Pesach, Shavuot and Succot.

Japanese Marital Problem

Two Japanese businessmen are talking during their afternoon dip in the hot baths at the Geisha House. The first businessman says "Hiroo-san, I have some unpleasant news for you. Your wife is dishonoring you." Hiroo-san can't believe what he hears, and asks for more information. "It is as I said, Hiroo-san. Your wife is dishonoring you, and she is doing it with a foreigner of the Jewish faith." Shocked, Hiroo-san decides to go home and confront his wife. He faces her and says, "I am told that you are dishonoring me with a foreigner of the Jewish faith." She replies, "That is a lie! Where did you hear such mishigas?"

PUNS:

An invisible man married an invisible woman. I don't know what they saw in each other. In a breakthrough, scientists have successfully grown human vocal cords in the lab. The results speak for themselves. Incorrectly is the only word that when spelled correctly, is still spelled incorrectly.

The Shaar Office is CLOSED this Thursday, August 28th, 2025.
